2. The pay equity committee, or the employer in the absence of a pay equity committee, must determine the hourly rate of remuneration that would be paid for each job class identified under section 1 on the basis of the job descriptions set out in Schedules I and II if there were such job classes in the enterprise. To that end, the pay equity committee, or the employer in the absence of a pay equity committee, must consider the following factors: the sector of activity, the size of the enterprise, and the region in which the enterprise operates.

3. In determining the hourly rates of remuneration, the pay equity committee, or the employer in the absence of a pay equity committee, must comply with the following standards:

(1) the hourly rate of remuneration assigned to each job class identified under section 1 must not be less than the minimum hourly wage rate determined by regulation of the Government under section 40 of the Labour Standards Act (chapter N-1.1); and

4. For the purposes of the valuation of differences in compensation, the flexible pay referred to in section 65 of the Act or the value of a benefit having pecuniary value referred to in section 66 of the Act must be added to the hourly rate of remuneration assigned pursuant to sections 2 and 3 where

(1) the flexible pay or the benefit having pecuniary value is currently available in the enterprise; and

(2) if the relevant job class existed in the enterprise it would in all likelihood be eligible for the flexible pay or the benefit having pecuniary value.

O.C. 315-2005, s. 4; O.C. 695-2005.

DIVISION III

IMPLEMENTATION OF PAY EQUITY

5. Once the pay equity committee, or the employer in the absence of a pay equity committee, has assigned an hourly rate of remuneration to each job class pursuant to sections 2 and 3, the pay equity committee, or the employer in the absence of a pay equity committee, must implement pay equity as provided in the Act.

O.C. 315-2005, s. 5; O.C. 695-2005.
